INFORMATION To the extent permitted by law, no liability shall attach to the occupier/owner in respect of any injury or damage sustained in The Village to visitors or their property. In all cases, except personal injury or death, our liability to you is limited to twice the total cost of the relevant person’s holiday, based on the relevant pro-rata proportion of the cost (excluding amendments). Our liability to you is limited in accordance with the maximum stated in the International Conventions. These conventions limit liability for death, personal injury, luggage, valuables and other matters. Each Convention contains specific and different limitations. These limitations may be less than the amount a court might award to a person suffering equivalent loss unconnected with air, sea or rail travel, or the provision of accommodation. You should consider insuring against the possibility of such events and you should be careful to note any limitations and restriction contained in the insurance policy. Time limits apply to making claims under these Conventions. Copies of the relevant Conventions are available on request from the address at the beginning of this contract. Where we make any acceptable payments to you or any members of your party in the above circumstances, you or they must then assign to us or our insurers any rights you or they may have to pursue with any other third party. You must also provide us and our insurers with all assistance required.

(a) Media: No members of the press or media may be invited onto our property by you without express written permission from our press office. You may not use photographs of our premises, facilities or staff for financial gain, without our written consent, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld.

(b) Data Protection: Information provided when booking may be used by us, or made available to specifically selected companies for marketing purposes. If you wish to have your details disclosed please tick the appropriate box on the Booking Confirmation.

(c) Brochure Accuracy: All information, pictures and descriptions have been compiled from up-to-date and accurate information at the time of going to press. However, you should note that as we are continually striving to improve our holiday locations, you may find that new facilities are on offer, some facilities may be closed or work may be carried out in segregated areas in your holiday location during your stay. Please note some images used by Trabolgan are for illustration purposes only.

(d) Legal Compliance: Every effort has been made to ensure that your holiday complies with all relevant legal requirements.

(e) Applicable Law: Our contract is governed by Irish Law and is subject to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the Courts of The Republic of Ireland. You may, if you wish, refer some matters to arbitration under a special scheme, which is administered independently by the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators – Irish Branch. The scheme, details of which can be supplied by request in the form entitled “Request for Appointment of an Arbitrator” from the Institute at 8 Merrion Square, Dublin 2. This form sets out the information to be submitted and briefly summarises the Institute of Arbitration Rules.

(f) Continuation of Contract Terms: Should any of the terms or our contract be officially declared void or unenforceable, the remainder of our arrangements shall remain, where possible, in full force and effect.

(g) Can We Help You: We sincerely hope you will not experience any problems with our services. If you do, however, you should contact the Duty Manager/ Customer Care Manager at the Village immediately (or call to our 24 hour reception) as it is likely they will be able to resolve any problem on the spot. You must communicate any complaint to us of the services in question whilst you are on holiday without exception. If you fail to follow this simple procedure we will have been deprived of the opportunity to investigate and rectify your complaint whilst you are in our resort and therefore no complaint will be accepted after you have departed. We regret we cannot accept liability for any complaint of which we are not notified in accordance with the provisions of this clause. If you are not satisfied you must then write to the General Manager at the address at the beginning of the contract, within 28 days of the end of your holiday explaining the problem. Complaints that are not notified in accordance with this clause cannot be accepted. Your statutory rights are not affected. We are happy to offer you assistance should you be in difficulty whilst on holiday with us. Should you be able to claim for any costs we incur in helping you, e.g. from a third party or under an insurance policy, then any sums incurred by us will be recovered from you. Where disputes arise between guests, these matters are normally entirely beyond our control and responsibility; we will endeavour to call appropriate assistance. Please note that, for legal reasons, we are unable to divulge any personal information about our guests, whether a dispute has arisen or not. This contract supersedes all previous editions.

(h) Arbitration:

a. Any dispute or difference of any kind whatsoever which arises or occurs between any of the parties hereto in relation to any thing or matter arising under out of or in connection with this Contract shall be referred to arbitration under the Arbitration Rules of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators – Irish Branch (the “Institute”). Neither party has a right of Appeal except to the High Court on a point of law. Full details are available on request. All claims in excess of the jurisdiction of the district court small claims procedure shall be referred to arbitration. A submission to Arbitration is called a Reference and the decision of the Arbitrator is legally binding.

b. If there is a dispute which cannot be mutually agreed, either party may apply directly to the Institute at Merchants House, 27-30 Merchant Quay, Dublin 8, by obtaining the form Request for Appointment of Arbitrator. This form sets out the information to be submitted including: the names and address of the parties concerned, copies of the booking form and conditions (including the arbitration clause), details of any legal or other people who are to represent the parties in the arbitration and an administration fee of €75 for non-personal injury claims and €150 for personal injury claims at present. This form refers to the Institute’s Arbitration and which are briefly summarised as follows (copies of the Rules and the accompanying guidance Notes on Arbitration are available from the Institute at a cost of €10 per set at present). Procedure: Once an arbitrator has been appointed he is in complete charge of the terms of reference, deciding the procedure as he considers best, and the Institute’s Rules deliberately give him this flexibility.

(i). Questionnaire Form: In this scheme, the arbitrator will first send out a detailed form for completion by both parties. This will provide him with the details of the dispute so he can decide how to present their cases.

(ii). Hearing: While an award may be made by an arbitrator based on the documentary evidence sent to him by the parties, it is open to both parties to present their case to him at an informal hearing.

(iii) Award: The arbitrator’s decision is made formally in his award which is sent to both parties. The award is a final and binding resolution of the dispute.

(iv) Arbitrator’s Fee: A fee is payable to the arbitrator for the conduct of the arbitration. The Retailer/ Organiser normally pays this fee but the arbitrator has absolute discretion to award this cost as he thinks fit.

Taking into consideration all relevant factors after following the complaints procedure as described in these conditions and to which such complaints affected the overall enjoyment of your holiday, which were within our control, we will as a gesture of goodwill provide reasonable compensation, the maximum of which will be a voucher for a return holiday to Trabolgan, where everything has gone wrong and your party has not received any benefit at all from your booking.

This contract supersedes all previous editions.
